CARUTHERSVILLE DEFEATS ELVINS 28-25 TO WIN SIKESTON TOURNEY, BLUFF THIRD

Caruthersville high school eliminated Elvins from championship contention last Friday night in the eighth annual girls' invitation cage meet sponsored by Sikeston, and thereby laid claim to first honors in Class A. Elvins overcame a 10-6 and 13-11 lead held by the champions at the end of the first and second quarters, and forged into the lead with a score of 23-18 at the end of the third frame. The elimination of Layne, all-star guard on Elvins squad on fouls, allowed Long and Moore of Caruthersville more trials at the basket, and resulted in a final count of 28 Caruthersville, 25 Elvins.

Poplar Bluff copped third place honors in A division by defeating Diehlstadt in a hard game 38 to 28. Not until the last frame did the Bluff Zippers break down an airtight defense and pull ahead of the Diehlstadt cagers.

The score stood 9-8 at the end of the opening quarter, and 16-16 at the half. The Zippers managed to edge over a one-point lead, 21-20 at the end of the third frame, and then piled up a satisfactory lead in the closing minutes of the game. Davis and Fann were able in the last quarter to break away from Franklin and Hornback, Diehlstadt guards and the score mounted accordingly. The consistent playing of Harris, lank center for the Bluff, assisted materially in stopping the ball before it reached the Diehlstadt all-star forward, Higgenbotham.

The first of the three championship games Saturday night was played in B division at 7 o'clock, when Advance met and defeated Bernie 37 to 24 in a slow, uninteresting game. Prather and Murphy, Advance forwards took turn about sinking baskets. At no time was Advance in danger. N. Prather, who earlier in the day had accumulated 29 points against Delta, accounted for 15 points, Murphy for 20, and Lockhart 2. Winchester for Bernie accounted of 17 points.

The score:

At the close of the last game, referee Herbert Moore asked the winning teams, Caruthersville, Elvins Poplar Bluff, and Advance to line up in front of the scorer's table for the presentation of trophies. Bronze plaques were awarded the four winners, and following this announcement of the all-star selection made.

Higgenbotham was unanimous choice of the officials as best individual player of the tournament. She has played her last game of basketball for Diehlstadt, and will soon join her parents, who recently moved to Oregon.

The all-star selection:
Long, Caruthersville, forward.
Davis, Poplar Bluff, forward.
Harris, Poplar Bluff, center.
Sibole, Elvins, center.
Woods, Caruthersville, guard.
Layne, Elvins, guard.

The locals dropped out of the running in the first elimination round, when they fell 28-22 to Poplar Bluff Friday night.

The game began to pick up in interest in the third quarter, when the locals overcame a lead of four points held by the Zippers at the half, and tied the score 20-20. Fann, who in the first half had rolled up a total of 15 points, received most of the attention of the Sikeston guards in the last frame, and Davis, all-star forward for the visitors dropped in the needed points to down the Bulldogs. Andres for Sikeston was high point scorer with a total of 13 to her credit. Sikeston made good on free throws in the tournament game, and thus overcame one factor which spelled defeat in a previous encounter with the Bluffians. The remarkable basket work of Fann, however, proved to be the undoing of Sikeston's hopes for winning a place in the meet.

OWLS, ROCKS, COLD WEATHER, TRAINS, CARELESS DRIVERS IN DIARY OF RUDLOFF CAR

Rev. A. C. Rudloff's Pontiac coach is badly in need of a chaperone. From the first the automobile has been jinxed, according to the Baptist minister, who recalls that his four-wheeled conveyance has been a thorn in his side—and for no fault of the machine.

The fact that Claude Ragsdale Sunday night plowed into the side of the reconditioned Pontiac as it stood in front of the Baptist church, brought on the following hard luck story by the minister:

When the speedometer registered 1000 miles, an owl flew through the windshield in Jefferson County. The impact with the wise bird did considerable damage to the owl and did not add materially to the good looks of the glass windshield. Both had to be replaced.

The Rudloff's added 2000 miles to the history of the Pontiac and then ripped off a running board in Iron County, when the car struck a rock.

During the recent "cold snap" Rudloff stripped the cogs from the fly wheel in trying to start the motor in cold weather. In other words, the auto was laid up with a bad cold.

At the 12,000-mile point, it was thought best to overhaul the machine thoroughly. The work was done at a cost of $110. Soon thereafter, Rev. and Mrs. Rudloff tried to outrun a Frisco Sunnysland train and lost the race. Rev. Rudloff suffered considerably from shock, and the Pontiac had to be overhauled completely.

The owner and his auto had just about regained their composure when Sunday night entered the scene and added another chapter to the hectic biography. Claude Ragsdale managed somehow to collide with the parked machine and succeeded in denting the body and smashing a perfectly good reconditioned fender. A warrant has been issued for Mr. Ragsdale charging careless and reckless driving.

EXTRA SERVICE TO CHEVROLET OWNERS

Detroit, Mich., March 10.—The Chevrolet Motor Company today announces a new and broader service policy. Any Chevrolet owner, experiencing defective workmanship or material on a Chevrolet car under the terms of Chevrolet's standard warranty, is invited to call upon any authorized Chevrolet dealer in the United States or Canada where the work will be done at no cost to him.

The plan, known as the Owner's Service Policy, is now in effect in the 10,000 authorized Chevrolet service stations in the United States, operating under the general supervision of the 52 Chevrolet branch offices.

The new policy takes the form of a written agreement give the purchaser by the Chevrolet dealer when the new car is delivered. It puts down in plain, understandable language the greater service protection to which every Chevrolet owner is now entitled. Briefly, it offers the following provisions:

POWER OF ADVERTISING DEMONSTRATED WHEN PURSE RETURNS TO OWNER MON.

The drawing power of advertising was again demonstrated Monday morning when the janitor of the Baptist church returned a purse to Mrs. J. R. McKinney, which disappeared from a Regional Missionary Conference held at that church last Thursday. The following story evidently led to the recovery of the purse, although it was not published until about six hours after the purse was returned.

The car from the dealer in perfect condition—thoroughly lubricated, properly adjusted and ready to operate efficiently from the first mile of ownership.

Every Chevrolet owner is entitled to free inspection and adjustment of his car at the end of the first 500 miles of usage. This includes checking and adjusting the brakes, tappets, timing, generator, carburetor, clutch pedal, and steering gear; tightening all body bolts; testing and filling battery and checking the oil level in the transmission and rear axle. The dealer assumes no responsibility for previous adjustments when they have been made in service stations other than his own.

Every Chevrolet owner is entitled to free inspection of his car every thousand miles thereafter so long as the car is in operation.

Every Chevrolet owner is entitled to free replacement of any part which may prove defective, either in workmanship or in material, within the terms of Chevrolet's standard warranty, provided such parts and labor are not required because of accident or mechanical abuse. This includes both parts and labor. This provision will be carried out by any Chevrolet dealer in the United States. Accordingly, the Chevrolet owner may change his residence, or travel to any part of the country with the full assurance that the guarantee on materials and workmanship will give him complete protection.

HIT AND RUN DRIVER ESCAPES SAT. NITE

Hugh Coulson, 25-year-old farmer living four and one-half miles south of Matthews was struck by a hit-and-run driver near the Kewanee lane on Highway 61 Saturday night about 9:30 o'clock, and was brought to the Emergency Hospital here about 11 o'clock suffering from a fractured leg.

Coulson stated that he stopped his Ford truck off of the highway to fix his lights. He had hardly had time to climb into the cab, when a car struck his machine, throwing him to the pavement. Passing motorists notified Johnny Albritton of the accident, and the injured man was brought here for treatment in the ambulance.

Coulson was to be discharged from the hospital Tuesday.

2000 ADDITIONAL 1930 LICENSE PLATES RECEIVED

P. H. Stevenson, City Clerk, last week received an additional shipment of 2000 new license plates to be issued to motorists in this vicinity. It was learned Monday that Sheriff Tom Scott has extended the time for securing plates until March 15. After that date, deputies will be instructed to make arrests of all persons driving on 1929 plates.

All but 150 of the original shipment of 3000 plates had been exhausted Monday morning according to Stevenson, who stated that the "rush" was leveling down considerably. The largest day so far as sales are concerned, was reported on Saturday, March 1, when about 300 plates were issued.

RIGHT-OF-WAY STATUS UNCHANGED MONDAY

According to E. C. Matthews there are no new developments in the right-of-way situation on the proposed route for Highway 61 north from Sikeston to Benton. A committee of landowners, highway officials and committeemen went over the ground last week, and reached a tentative agreement.

A Morley committee is working to secure right-of-way for the proposed highway near that city.

MORLEY YOUTH GETS TWO YEARS

Judge Charles L. Ferguson, in circuit court this morning, sentenced Wavey Rogers, 18, of Morley, Mo., to serve a two year term in the Missouri State penitentiary, following his plea of guilty to a charge of larceny from a dwelling. He later commuted the sentence to two years in the reformatory school.

Rogers, last August, broke into the home of Charles Rall, a farmer living near Fisk, and stole a watch and a quantity of jewelry.—Poplar Bluff Republican.

FIRST OFFENSE LESSONS CHARGES AGAINST MAN WHO SIDESWIPE CAR

Charges of driving while intoxicated, in an imprudent and careless manner, and leaving the scene of an accident, were modified "the morning after", when Rev. C. D. Morris, Pentecostal preacher reached an agreement as to settlement of damages with V. B. Vessell, and reduced the charge to misdemeanor.

Rev. Morris was crossing Malone avenue Sunday night about 7 o'clock to reach the Pentecostal church, when he is conducting a meeting, which a Ford driven by V. B. Vessell made a left hand turn at the Frisco crossing and collided with the minister's larger car. Left front fenders on both machines were dented considerably.

Local officers found Mr. Vessell and his son, Ralph, after a short search and produced complaint signed by Rev. Morris. The elder Mr. Vessell took the entire blame for the accident upon himself, thereby releasing his son.

Monday morning, a dozen friends of the Vessell family, all from the McMullin community, appeared before Judge Myers, and succeeded in reaching an agreement which led to mitigating the charges. Clint Kindred, Will Simpson and others agreed that Vessell was a responsible man in charge of the McMullin warehouses, and that this was his first offense. They agreed to stand good for damage done to Rev. Morris' car.

Vessell paid a fine and costs of $25 and was released.

BRIDGE LUNCHEON SATURDAY FOR MRS. Wm. NORTHINGTON

One of the attractive social affairs of the early spring season was a bridge luncheon at the Hotel Marshall Saturday, complimenting Mrs. Wm. Northington of Los Angeles, California, by Mrs. Florence Marshall, Mrs. Ben F. Marshall and Miss Kate Austin. Fifteen tables of guests enjoyed this lovely affair. The tables were decorated with St. Patrick clothes, the centerpiece being green carnations. The same color scheme was carried out in the ice cream, being the individual shamrock.

Among the out-of-town guests who enjoyed this delightful affair were Mesdames Harvey Johnson of Jefferson City, Arden Ellise of Cape Girardeau, George Taylor of Kansas City, Buddy Stokes of Mayfield, Ky., E. Winifred of Memphis, Tenn., Charles Berthe and Ichy Brown of Charleston, Murray Phillips of New Madrid.

Don't let anyone mislead you about the bond issue for the municipal light and power plant. Of course all property in the city is mortgaged in a way, under a bond issue, but no one ever heard of a light plant losing money in recent years. A committee of our own conservative business men have reported the proposed plant, with two-thirds of the users now in the city, would pay a net profit of $18,000 per year, so you will see there is little danger of any citizen ever having a levy made against his property to take care of the light and power bonds. The bugaboo is put out to frighten, when those using it knows there is nothing to it.

From different sections of the United States riots between unemployed and city police occurred Thursday of last week. People who have employment cannot realize what it must be to be without work, and cold and hungry. All of this in a land of plenty and large surpluses of both food and money. Prosperity where art thou!

The Cape Missourian recently stated, editorially, that with all the reductions recently made by the Missouri Utilities Co. in Cape Girardeau that the city was still paying the high rates of old for street lights and getting inferior service. The same is true in Skeston.

Petitions are being circulated asking the County Court to call an election to bond the county for $40,000 to build a new jail at Benton. The old jail is a disgrace, of course, but just as soon as the Eighteenth Amendment gets to working good there will be no need for further jails.

It may be that threats will again be made to increase the rent on some of the houses, provided the light and power bond issue carries, as was made when the sewer bonds were up for passage. The sanitary sewer was a health necessity and there is absolutely no income from that source, but it is paid by taxation. The light and power bonds are for a money making proposition and there is not a chance in the world of anyone's property ever being taxed to pay the bonds. The light and power profits will more likely retire the sewer bonds. Don't let any man or woman pull the wool over your eyes.

When the editor was a boy, just a few years ago, the courting of a girl by a youth was referred to as "sparkling". Now days it could be called "parking". This is a fast age so that the mere dropping of an "s" amounts to little. No matter how cold the weather, there are certain spots around Shelbina, and all other towns we suppose, where you can nearly always find a car parked at the side of the road, the young occupants of which are "carrying on" as did their elders in the horse and buggy age. It was not necessary to park then, for hands could be taken off the reins and the horse depended upon to not interrupt proceedings. The advantage of the horse and buggy, however, was that sooner or later the horse would wander back home and the young folks discovering themselves at the starting place would adjourn for the evening, with the agreement that the courtship be continued the next day. With their car parked, it is a different affair, for the young lovers fail to notice the passing of time and seldom get home until morning of the next day.—Shelbina Democrat.

SPRING

The spring is truly elfin, gay
'Tis here today, then flown away.
This March, 'tis really quite contrary.
All dressed in moods of February,
The dawn, then sunlight, bright and still—

Eventide, a moonbeam on a dainty daffodil
All day the drifting west winds Which make the daisies shiver.
Little Johnny Jump-ups and all along the river

The crocuses and violets and dainty bluebell sweet, you'll find them close together where the wood and river meet.

We're drawing near to Eastertide
With purest lillies sweet
And many a weary suppliant Full prone at Jesus' feet.

—M. S. Smith.

Brother Ferguson of the Fredericktown News-Democrat is a soul with humor, one who can jest in the face of threats. Last week he was sued by the prosecuting attorney for $50,000 damages. Instead of worrying he says that for seventeen years he has been conducting the paper and notwithstanding his best efforts he had fallen a little short of making that much in all these years, and that therefore it pains him to see modern youth so ambitious as trying to extract $50,000 from the business within a month or so, as it strikes at his professional pride, but on the other hand, the editor rather favors the move, for if there is that much money concealed around the shop, it was high time that it was dug up and put in circulation. That's delicious humor.—Jackson Post.

THIS WEEK IN MO. HISTORY

By Floyd C. Shoemaker

Captain James Callaway, the man for whom Callaway County was named when it was organized November 25, 1820, met his death at the hands of Indians near the confluence of Prairie fork and Loutre creek, in Montgomery county, 115 years ago the seventh of this month.

Capt. Callaway, son of Flanders and Jemima (Boone) Callaway, and grandson of Daniel Boone, lived in St. Charles district, where in 1805 he married Nancy Howell. Of ordinary education but good natural talents, he interested himself in public affairs, serving as deputy sheriff, tax collector, cavalry cornet, administrator, and in other local and military positions. As early as 1810, it is said he was captain of a cavalry company in the militia. At any rate, the War of 1812 found him on the frontier fighting Indians, and the fatal March 7, 1815, found him stationed at Fort Clemson, on Loutre island whence he set out on his last expedition.

Assisted by Lieutenant Jonathan Riggs, Captain Callaway took a party of some fifteen men to search for a band of Indians who had stolen some horses from neighboring settlers. After swimming Loutre slough, they followed the conspicuous trail left by the Indians, until they came upon their camp about twelve miles above Prairie fork. There were the horses guarded only by the squaws.

The animals were recovered without resistance, but Lieutenant Riggs it is recorded, expressed suspicion of an ambush if they returned to the fort by the same route they came. Capt. Callaway insisted, however, so they started back.

As they approached Prairie fork again, Lieutenant Riggs renewed his warning to his superior officer, but the latter was determined to go on. Some accounts say that Captain Callaway lost his temper and called his lieutenant a coward.

At any rate, they pushed forward and were attacked just as they were crossing Prairie fork. The stream was high at that time, and the Indians, hidden along the bank, fired on the first three horsemen just after they plunged into the water. Capt. Callaway rushed forward and was nearly across the creek, when he was shot at. His horse was killed and he was wounded in the left arm, escaping immediate death when a ball lodged against his watch, which was shattered.

Springing to the bank, Captain Callaway cast his rifle, which he did not have time to reload, into the creek, muzzle first, and started running down the edge of the stream. After a short distance, he plunged into the creek, but as he swam a shot struck him in the back of the head, and he sank from sight.

Lieut. Riggs and the remaining men were hotly engaged, but fighting as they retreated they escaped without loss of life, although several were wounded. The three in advance, however, had been killed. Four or five of the whites, in all, lost their lives in the fight. It is not known how many casualties the Indians suffered.

A burying party, returning the next day, found the bodies of three of the rangers mutilated by the Indians according to the more detailed accounts. Captain Callaway's body when found several days after the fight, was untouched, it having been in the stream and concealed. His father, Flanders Callaway, had arrived from St. Charles county in time to attend the recovery of the corpse.

Capt. Callaway's widow, who had endured all the hardships of a frontier wife and mother but this one was attending school near her home in St. Charles county when she heard of her husband's death. It is recorded that Nancy Callaway could not write, and it is probable that she was trying to remove that handicap which she later did. On arrival of the bad news, she left without a word and stoically walked home, but fainted as she reached her house.

Alexander Napierkowski, of Westfield, Mass., who recently gave his wife a fright by appearing after he was supposed to have hanged himself in a Springfield, Mass. jail, six years ago. His death certificate is legally filled out and signed. Mrs. Napierkowski lost no time in ordering her husband's arrest on a nonsupport charge, but as he is legally dead, the law is in a quandary.

Movies Aid In Tick Fight

Last year the United States Department of Agriculture's cattle-tick movies were shown four hundred and fifty-seven times and were seen by 62,503 persons in the States of Arkansas, Florida, Mississippi and Texas. In the six years from 1924 to 1929 inclusive, the pictures were shown in rural communities with thousand four hundred and twenty-nine times to an attendance of 370,778 people.

Two films have proved very helpful in tick-eradication work. "Mollie of Pine Grove Vat", a 3-reel film shows a community organizing to get rid of cattle-fever ticks, the dynamiting of the dipping vat by opponents of tick eradication, their capture by the heroine, and the final release of the county from quarantine. In more than one instance, communities hostile to tick-eradication work became favorable to it after seeing "Mollie of Pine Grove Vat".

The high score prize was won by Miss Joella Moore and the low score by Mrs. Bailey Wilkinson, Jr. A salad and ice course was served. Spring flowers were used to beautify the rooms.

The Wednesday Morning Music Club held a business session Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Harrison Cornwall. The following officers were re-elected to serve for the coming year: President, Mrs. Clarence Joslyn; Vice-President, Mrs. Jacob Grigsby; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Harley Estes; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Moffat Latimer; Treasurer, Mrs. Jacob Priester; Press and Publicity, Miss Anne Latimer.

One of the most charming affairs of the week was a St. Patrick bridge luncheon given Wednesday by Mrs. Clifford Brown. Bridge was played at three tables and prizes were awarded. The St. Patrick color note was carried in the decorations, tallies and throughout the serving of the menu. A number of guests from Sikeston were present, also Mrs. Earl Pate of Aniston, Misses Margaret and Joella Moore, Mrs. Ernest Tibbitts, Mrs. Doss Lee and Mrs. Charles Berthe of this city and Mrs. Wm. Northington of Hollywood, Cal.

The Emma K. Wilson Missionary Society of the Methodist church met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Reece B. Gillooly. Mrs. Seth Rowe, president, held a brief business session, following which a social hour was enjoyed, the members sewing for the needy of this city and also for the Kingdom House in St. Louis. Mrs. Gillooly and her assistant hostesses Mesdames Edgar Presson and Harry Crowe, served a salad course in which the St. Patrick color motif was used very effectively. Twenty-nine members and four visitors were present.

FARM PROBLEM SOLUTION LIES IN WORK, FORD SAYS

Fort Myers, Fla., March 6.—Solution of the farm problem, like almost every other economic difficulty, lies in work, which is a remedy for all things, Henry Ford said in an interview at his winter home here.

Machinery, chemistry and education of the farmer toward intensive production are the best agencies of relief, Ford declared.

"As far as that goes," he continued, "mass production will be as much an agency" as anything else, but all agencies must be co-ordinated and co-operative with each other.

The manufacturer was asked if mass production might not lead in a short time to over-production.

"Certainly not," he responded, "overproduction of foodstuffs will automatically be eliminated by development of by-products."

Search for and development of by-products will bring chemistry into the limelight as an agency for bettering conditions, Ford pointed out.

As he talked he sat in an airplane chair, apparently the favorite piece of furniture in an improvised office. He had just returned from a day's automobile trip with his old friend, Thomas A. Edison, in search of rubber producing plant life and was preparing to leave Florida for his home in Michigan.

Any system of restriction of labor, pending development of a market for increased production of foodstuffs, is a step in the wrong direction, Ford declared.

"I have always been against restricted production. In fact, our company fought one patent for seven years because it tended to restrict production of automobiles," he said.

If this is a machine age, then Henry Ford believes that it is an age that must be directed by man. No man or woman, he said, will fail to find plenty of work if he looks for it.

"What about the automatic machines that are replacing men in plants and factories?" he was asked. "Whose going to make the machines?" was his question reply.

"I believe that every man could double his labor output if he tried and on condition that he used intelligence in selecting his method of operation for the increased production" he explained.

"If the farmer believes he cannot crowd more work into a 24-hour day the he must turn to machinery, to chemistry and to a study of production on a more intensive scale," Ford said.

He recently returned from a visit to his plantation near Savannah, Ga. There, he said, his forces are experimenting with a series of farm products and a system of planting that will make each acre of land produce three crops a year. This, he pointed out, involves study of soil conditions, of fertilizers and of crops.

"And all of it," he concluded, in emphatic repetition, "is work, and work is a remedy for all things."

The jury that was empaneled to try a man at Bounding Billows last Friday, after long deliberation, expressed only one opinion, and that was they couldn't agree.—Commercial Appeal.

There is an interesting resemblance in the methods used by insects for flight and the principles used in present-day aircraft, says the United States Department of Agriculture Entomologists who have been making a special study of insect flight say the rapidly whirling wings of certain insects present an interesting counterpart of the rotating propellers of airplanes.

Baby chicks do a lot of growing in the first four weeks of their lives. H. L. Sharder, extension poultryman in the United States Department of Agriculture, says they double in size in the first two weeks. Not satisfied with such a record, they double in size again in the next two weeks, if they get the right kind of attention. Two essentials for success in rearing baby chicks, Mr. Sharder explains are plenty of heat and feed. A good rule to follow in feeding chicks, he says, is to provide a hopper 4 feet long for each 100 chicks. At the end of three weeks another hopper should be added.

Raymond Usrey of Morehouse left last Thursday to attend Business College at Kansas City. We are proud to heart that he can go for he is an exception of a boy. He is a stepson of Mrs. Mabel Usrey. Mrs. Usrey is a wonderful woman, one who is loved by all who know her. She was married to Mr. Usrey 6 years ago in April and 1 year ago, he passed away. Now Mrs. Usrey and her three lovely children reside at home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Newt Fulkerson of McMullin. Mrs. Usrey carries a sweet smile for everyone. She is a member of the Baptist church of Morehouse and we sadly miss her.

PROPERTY VALUES GREATLY INCREASED BY HOME MODERNIZING

Wise Owner Keeps Property Up-to-Date

The man who has modernized his home knows absolutely that his property value has increased through the remodeling or other work he has done.

Often the increased attractiveness of his remodeled home has brought inquiries as to whether it is on the market.

Modern Houses in Demand

The average person wants a home that is up-to-date. He wants to live in a house that has modern fixtures, hardwood floors, well arranged rooms, tiled baths and clean, bright, cheerful lines. When he finds a place of this sort he is eager to rent or purchase it.

Homes that are modern are always in demand. They sell more easily in the slow market. The house that is difficult to sell or rent is usually the old timer that has no modern conveniences or with fixtures and accessories that are out of date.

The money spent in modernizing a house is always well spent because the returns are definite and sure.

Not an Expense

A study of the cost of modernizing the home from a dollars and cents standpoint reveals that the cash outlay is relatively small.

Sometimes only a few hundred dollars are needed to bring the residence up to the par. A new heating plant or the addition of a sun-parlor may be all that is needed.

Sad looking houses, to the average persons hopeless of better things, have been remodeled and made smartly up-to-date for an outlay of but $2,000. The average figure for a complete modernization job equals this sum, according to authorities who have studied this subject.

But what does this cash outlay bring? Spend $2,000 on a $5,000 house. It becomes worth in all probability not $7,000 but more likely $8,000 or $9,000.

The investment of $2,000 has jumped the value of the house a clear 15 per cent.

On expenditure in such a case as this—and it is one of many—proves to be a wise investment. In no other way can one increase the value of their holdings so rapidly.

Period Hardware For The Draperies

When finishing the interior of your home each room may be decorated in some period design. This decorating scheme should be applied also to the door and window rods which hold and support the drapery.

Some home owners purchase wrought iron drapery hardware, each piece individually hand-hammered and never exactly duplicated. This gives that distinctive touch which may not be obtained with cast hardware.

An Old Time Made Up-to-Date

The clean lines and modern appearance of this residence does reveal its true age. Yet it was built back in the World's Fair of '93 when architects had different ideas.

Hardwood Floors Beautify the Interior of the Home

While striving to give character to outside lines of your home do not look the interior. It needs moderation also. Hardwood floors may aid over your present floors, room room, in just a few days—disturb you scarcely at all.

Seems strange that the old timers did not include hardwood in their plans, so permanent satisfactory are they, but this use was probably due to a lack of idea of economy.

Hardwood is economical. Hardwood floors are not expensive, in first cost. You can lay them less than lots of perishable floor coverings—and they will cost you relatively little more than softer woods.

For upkeep and permanence there is no comparison. Time stands still for hardwood floors. Like fine old furniture, they grow more beautiful with age. Easy to keep clean, smooth and dustproof, they have many advantages. They may be finished in any style and color.

These floors may be kept clean by sweeping with a dry wooly floor brush. At intervals they may be washed with soap and water. Oil mops should not be used as the oil often leaves dirty streaks which are difficult to remove.

Dead Air an Insulator

Dead air spaces make a splendid insulating material and many products are designed with dead air cells to give this protection. Most of the rigid insulating materials are built with dead air cells.

When the walls have been properly protected by insulating material, it is really sealed against the entrance of cold air and the exit of heat. Then you have 100 per cent insulation and can keep your fuel bills down to a minimum.

It is a help in training a small child to dress himself, if the fastenings of his clothes are always found in the same place. Buttons for trousers should be placed where he can reach them easily and in the same place on all his trousers.

1. Paint and varnish can be applied indoors at any time, regardless of the weather. Often, as in winter, when the house is heated, conditions are just made to order for the best interior work.

2. The fine weather of spring and fall brings the painters' peak load. Extra men, overtime, hurry—are inevitable. Whereas now your work will be done by regular crews with no other thought than to do a good job. Also your painting, your varnishing, will cost less now than later, when the rush comes on again.

We will be glad to discuss with you in detail the advantages—to both sides—of doing all possible painting and varnishing now.

Every community now seems di-

ought to be in the fold, and those out-

ent or unfriendly to the Church. The old concern for "lost souls" has given way to zeal for things material.
The poor are practically neglected.
Every town of reasonable size needs

BEAUTIFY THE HOME

The series of pages on Home Modernization which have been appearing in The Standard has caused considerable comment among the building contractors of the city, men who are intimately in contact with the
the building of homes over a long period of years.

That the before and after modern-
are typical, is the opinion of all.
These views depict actual houses that have been modernized and changed
from obviously obsolete architecture
to lines that are new and up to date.

"It has been my good fortune to have seen the entire series of twenty-six illustrations of before and after modernizing", states J. A. Young General Contractor, "and I must say that the series is one of the most interesting that has ever come to my attention. If he readers of The Standard will study these views from week to week they will see that the task of modernizing is usually a relatively simple one. The cost of mod-ernizing is lower than the home owners' suspects."

"Not only this but the value of the property increases with remodeling.
I have known of many homes that jumped several thousand dollars in value when the builder was through
—and you may be sure that the owner did not put that much money into the project. The increase came because modernizing put new values
there."

The Red Cross is supposed to assist in cases of calamity and not in ordinary local cases. The City is supposed to look after her own deserving needy, then comes the County Farm for those old and feeble. The Standard hears many calls but can do but little to help.

Very few business people of Sikeston but what would be willing to take hold of a proposition that promises such good financial returns as a municipal light plant, and why a single individual who has the welfare of the city at heart could vote and work against this municipal bond issue, is beyond understanding.

TOTAL EXPENSE OF COLLEGE STUDENT 90 YEARS AGO LISTED AT $1.75 PER WEEK

Columbia, March 6.—Ninety years makes a big difference, judging from an interesting disclosure made recently in connection with education costs of students in the early days of the University of Missouri as compared to those of the present.

Catalogs in the early "forties" list
complete student expenses for forty-
two weeks of education at approximately $100. By 1850 the total had come up to exactly $113. Seven or eight times that amount would be considered a minimum for a shorter period in present-day higher educational systems of the country.

Could a modern student pay his
board, room, washing, fuel and light bill—all these were included in a single item in students' expense accounts listed in 1845—with $1.75 a week, and get by with it? That is the amount given in the catalog for that year as a "supreme sufficiency" for any aspiring young collegian to pay, or for a landlord to expect. Varying estimates from all parts of the country show that an average student pays more than $8 a week for his board, room, etc., as compared to the $1.75 of former years.

Included in the catalog estimates (by 1860 the catalogs omitted these estimates) was the item "contingene-s". This came to $1 for two terms.
Another small item was fees, amount-

for forty-two weeks.

The University of Missouri was somewhat typical, somewhat unique in education costs for students in the early days of the institution, as the figures show. Being the first State university west of the Mississippi River, it had to set a standard for others and at the same time keep up with those already established in the East. It is said that modern education costs at the University are considerably cheaper, comparatively speaking, than at any other Central Western State educational institution.

Courses were offered in the University of Missouri during its early history in the following manner: A twenty-one week session opened on the first Monday in October. This was followed by another session of the same length beginning in April. Commencements were held the fourth Thursday of August.

The University now offers three regular sessions. These are: the first semester, or fall and winter term; second semester, during the winter and spring, and the summer session beginning in June. A fourth, the inter-session, coming between the summer session and fall session, is becoming a popular term in the University. The regular school year now consists of thirty-six weeks for two standard semesters.

THEE RESOLUTIONS WOULD HELP SOME

Farmers will never get real tax relief in Missouri until they induce the legislature to shift burdens now carried by real estate to things that either pay no State taxes at all or only a fraction of what they ought to pay.
If, for instance, the legislature would add $9,000,000 to the State's revenues
a year, one-third of the money would be distributed among the public schools. This would enable every district to reduce its levy for school purposes.

If farmers would hold meetings in every Missouri township and adopt the following resolutions there is no question but that the next legislature
would give favorable action:

Whereas, the logical outcome of a decrease in valuations would be an increase in the tax levy unless other than present sources of revenue were reached. And,

Whereas, all owners of real estate
are agreed that farms and town property already are being taxed too high, therefore be it

Resolved, that this meeting go on record as favoring restoration of corporation and income tax levies to former figures and as favoring special taxes on luxuries like cigarettes, soft drinks, cosmetics, theatre and other amusement tickets, as is being done in other States, to the end that
real estate be relieved of at least part of the burden it now unjustly carries. And be it further

Resolved, that our senator and representative be requested to do everything in their power to induce the next session of the legislature to pass laws of this nature.—Paris Appeal.

ting to be numerous and tiresome.

A Nationally Accepted Home Modernization Feature To Be Employed Exclusively By Standard

Hon. F. Dickinson Letts, Congressional representative of the Second Iowa District, is shown above presented to the President through his secretary, George Akerson, the Bawden Bros. Home Modernization Services. These services cover all phases of home improvement and will be brought to the readers of The Standard as a news feature of exceptional merit. The President is giving special attention to the Home Modernization project, believing that conditions now make possible remodeling and modernizing improvements involving a million homes.

HOME IMPROVEMENT SERIES WILL APPEAR IN STANDARD

CONTRACTS FOR NATIONALLY KNOWN FEATURE SERVICE ON HOME

When President Hoover inaugurated his fight for prosperity last December, one of the items which was included among the definite steps for a business revival was the home modernization project.

This modernization program was investigated by him when he was Secretary of Commerce under President Coolidge. It has his keenest interest, for from his practical knowledge of the subject, he knows that it has great possibilities for national
and community good.

It is estimated that the home modernization program this year involves a million homes and $2,000,000,000.

In President's Files
Recently the president was presented through his secretary, George Akerson, with a complete series of
the Bawden Bros. Home Modernization Services, a newspaper series of feature pages of exceptional merit completely covering the home modernization program. The services were presented through Congressman

F. Dickinson Letts of the Second
District of Iowa.

Has Exclusive Rights

With an idea of giving to the home owners of this community the highest type of service and a feature of national interest, The Sikeston Standard has concluded negotiation and received the exclusive franchise for the rights to this home modernization service. The feature started with our issue of March 7 and will run weekly thereafter for 26 weeks.

Modernization is home improvement in its broadest sense—the employment of any household equipment which adds comfort, convenience and beauty.

In the series of feature pages which will run in The Standard there will
houses which have been remodeled
and modernized. These illustrations will show the house before and after modernization. They will prove conclusively to every reader that with a small expenditure of thought, time
and money, the old home, no matter how obsolete looking, may be made to look new and liveable.

Discusses Financing

Special articles in the series will show how the home improvement
program may be financed; how the various service organizations in the community help the home owner to achieve his ambitions; how the merchants of the city co-operate with services and materials to make improved homes for readers of The Standard.

The home improvement program as outlined will make a more beautiful, more progressive Sikeston. It is a movement which has behind it the civic forces of the community. Those organizations that are conversant with the details of the campaign endorse it highly.

Advisory Service

The modernization feature is supported by the merchants of the community. These business houses that appear on the page have studied the home modernizing program as it applies to their particular business and
are offering without obligation to aid
any home owner who has a problem for solution. This consulting service is rendered without charge to readers of The Standard. They are invited to call upon any of these firms that are co-operating with The Standard and ask questions that involve home improvements.

For Alderman Second Ward
C. E. Felker

In keeping with past expressions uttered by The Standard editor, we again state that any man, woman or child driving a car or truck while under the influence of liquor and injures anyone, should be given a penitentary sentence for a term of years or confined in an asylum. We don't give a darn who the party is either.

Marion McFarland, just back from a trip to Ralls County, was in to see the editor the other afternoon and said he spent a pleasant time visiting with Guilford Harris and John Fisher, publishers of The Ralls County Record at New London. Both were asking about us and talking of bygone days when we were young.
Hope they didn't tell Marion every
doggone thing they knew about us.

The Girls' Basketball Tournament
just closed at Skeston showed some splendid specimens of young womanhood and much of the robust health of the girls is due to athletic exercises practiced in our schools. This is a fine place for a young fellow to pick out a healthy and husky girl for
a wife as he could see pretty much
of what he was getting.

We are not going to get unduly excited about the municipal light and power plant and will try and not bear down too hard on those who oppose the proposition unless they get too bold in their assertions. We are not expecting a 100 per cent vote for the proposition, but are hoping for a strong two-thirds majority.

It should be good news to the farmers and merchants of the Central West to hear that within sixty days business will improve and unemployed be given work. This must be so for the President has given out
the news. Governor Hyde must have given the information. Hope it is so but no specifications are given.

In remodeling your premises this spring and putting out shrubs and trees to beautify the yard, don't overlook the matter of flowers in beds or in borders that always make a home more attractive. Our home florist can give you valuable assistance along these lines and can furnish the shrubs or bulbs to complete the job.

An appreciated call was made on the editor Monday morning by Mrs.
Geo. W. Taylor of Kansas City, formerly Miss Daisy Randol. She has been here for a visit with her mother for a few days, but left on the Sunnyland Monday forenoon for her home.

Mrs. W. A. Cox, a well-known professional nurse,
of Burnside, Ky.,
writes:

"I was in very bad health,
and only weighed 110 pounds.
I read in the papers about Cardui, and thought I would give it a try-out. After I had taken one bottle, I could see that I was improving. After I had taken it a month or
weighed at present 168, and have weighed that for some time. I am now 55 years old, and can do as much work
as the average middle-aged woman can."

"I would advise any woman, who is weakly and in a rundown condition, to try Cardai, but not to expect one bottle to make her well. I take two or three bottles a

Friends here were notified of the marriage of Erwin Royal Smoot of this city to Miss Bonnie Murray
Jones of Lakeland, Fla., Sunday
March 9 at Lakeland. A reception is planned at the Minner community house for Thursday evening, March 20. The young man was reared in Illinois, but is known to a large number of friends at Minner. He is the son of C. W. Smoot of that community.

If the voters of Skeston have any confidence in the word and findings of the committee authorized by the City Council to investigate the light plant situation, they will see there is not one chance in a thousand that a levy
on city property will be made to pay
the light and power bonds. Their estimate was low and conservative and
with that, the plant would show a net
earning of $18,000 the first year, with an increase each year until the Supreme Court decides the Salem, Mo.
case of ejecting the light corporation.
then Skeston will proceed along the same lines and soon have all the business. Use your common sense and judgment in the matter.

We are extremely sorry to hear that Jim Martin is a very sick man
at his home in this city. His lungs are effected and an operation was recently performed to drain one of his lungs. Let us hope with the warm sunshine of Spring that he will soon be able to be about.

The devil must have been in the church house Thursday night when the Baptist congregation was holding services. Mrs. J. R. McKinney has her handbag containing money, gloves
and other small articles, stolen.
Don't this beat you, a black sheep in the flock.

Friends in Ward 2 have insisted that C. E. Felker represent their Ward in the City Council the coming term in place of Charlie Hebbeler whose term expires April 1 and who has moved to Crystal City to take charge of an ice cream plant, hence the announcement in another place.
Felker is so well known in Skeston that there is little to be said. Having been mayor of the city for two terms,
he is fitted for the position of Councilman, and his interest in the affairs of Skeston will make him a valuable member of that body.

Little "T" Wilson was "making time" on his new bicycle Saturday evening about 6:30 o'clock going west along the Stallcup walk on Tanner Street. At the same time, dozens of cars were whizzing by going to and coming from the high school basketball tournament. T misjudged the intentions of one car, a sedan driven by Roy Whidden. Instead of going straight on to the gym, the sedan turned north on Ranney, and Little
T. collided. The bike stopped pronto and T continued in the general direction of one glass window.

Dr. Kendig repaired the damage to a small shoulder bone which was fractured, and patched up two or three cuts.

Mrs. Moore Greer will be hostess to the Thursday Bridge Club at her home, this week.

Mrs. Buddy Stokes returned to her home in Mayfield, Ky., after a pleasant visit with her mother, Mrs. Annie Winchester.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Matthews, Jr.,
left for St. Louis Sunday. Mr. Matthews will go to Jefferson City for a meeting of the Highway Commission, while Mrs. Matthews will remain in
St. Louis for his return.

The seeding mechanism of the McCormick-Deering No. 8 operates on the "wire drive" principle. Every time a button on the check wire engages the fork, the plate in each hopper deposits a hill to the top of the boot. At the same time the lower valves discharge a waiting hill to the furrow—without scattering. Hills are accurately checked. CHAFFEE MAN, 75 IS SUICIDE VICTIM

Coroner George Dempster was called in the death of William Isaac Manus, 75-year-old resident of Chaffee who Saturday afternoon committed suicide by drinking one ounce of carbolic acid. Continued ill health and inability to work was given as possible cause of death, although near relatives stated that Mr. Manus had not been dispondent.

For the past few years the aged man had been making his home with a son-in-law, Mr. Moore. After drinking the acid, Manus walked back to the house, where doctors used a stomach pump in an effort to save his life. He died at 5 o'clock, one hour after taking the potion.

Funeral services were conducted Monday at the Assembly of God Church. He is survived by a widow and two daughters. He was born October 14, 1854 at Covington, Ky.

Galloway's Drug Store

TODAYS BUSINESS PROBLEM

Now, I will go back to my opening remarks and talk more in detail of the things I feel might be improved upon: (1)—Big variety is profitable: The average store will find it profitable and necessary to handle a greater variety of popular selling miscellaneous articles. Step into the big drug stores of our cities today and you will find miniature department stores. Watch their customers and see what they buy. You will find that less than 25 per cent buy drugs or have prescriptions filled. Seventy-five out of a hundred customers buy cigars, cigarettes, smoking tobacco, stationery, candy sundries, toilet goods, handkerchiefs, brushes, kodaks and films, magazines, books, sandwiches, ice cream, soft drinks and thousands of other miscellaneous items and novelties.

In my neighborhood drug store, I have noticed a little "mountain" of Turkish bath towels, most attractively displayed. I have also seen a beautiful assortment of neckties displayed on a rack. Aside from the fact that this druggist finds it profitable to carry such a vast line of miscellaneous items, he is rendering a real service to his community. His store is the community center—the meeting place, where we all like to go; and before we leave, we usually purchase some little token that catches our eyes—an extra sale.

There are thousands of items if properly displayed, that will find a ready sale and keep the cash register ringing, all of which will never be called for if not in sight. Some of these items may sell for only a dime or a nickel—too small in price to bother about—"maybe"; but it is the stuff the "kiddies" buy and remember the "kiddies" of today are the youths and the parents of tomorrow, when they will come with their dollars.

In this connection, it is to be remembered that one of the leaders of Five and Ten Cent Chain Stores has made enough money selling five and ten cent merchandise to build one of the tallest buildings in the world—and he did it by selling big variety.

signs of "Welcome", "Call Again" and "We Try to Please". Train your clerks to make a customer, whether white or black, old or young, attractive or otherwise, to feel at home. Some little unusual, unexpected attention inspires a pleasing atmosphere, and don't forget that everybody likes it—like a little more than expected or common courtesy. Put a smile in every package; that's what an appreciative "Thank You" means when a package is handed over to a customer; but "Thank You" must be said in a way that is pleasing and natural, otherwise the effect is lost. "Won't You Call Again" with a pleasant smile behind it, will bring back Mr. Customer just as sure as the "Flowers Bloom in the Spring". Many will "walk a mile" to get a smile. Natural, pleasing smiles cost nothing; but they are an invaluable asset to a store.

(3)—Courtesy is a big asset in business: Everybody is entitled to common courtesy—every customer expected it and every store tries its way to show it; but the store that specializes in courtesy—the store that makes this valuable asset outstanding to a point that is noticeable, not only draws trade, but holds it, and grows "fat" on it.

DIES FROM CAR INJURIES

Bloomfield, March 6.—J. F. Aslin 89, justice of the peace for 45 years, died late yesterday from the effects of injuries received when he was knocked down by a car.

He lived near here most of his life. During the time he was justice he performed more than 1500 marriage ceremonies. He was with the Seventh Tennessee of the Confederate army cavalry during the Civil War and took part in several important battles.

When the Greeks, in classical days set up the statues of their gods in the open, they used to protect each with a large metal plate at the top of each head against the rain staining the marble faces. These, it is said, were mistaken by medieval painters for emblems of divinity. Accordingly, we see around the pictured heads of the Christian saints the curious little ring which is known as the halo.

A PAIR OF SHOES, SOME SHOE LACES AND SOME SHARES OF STOCK

A company in the East is mailing letters to a large list of people throughout the country, offering to sell them a pair of shoes for $6.50 and "throwing in absolutely free, 275 shares of stock.

The company purports to be in the business of manufacturing a patented shoe lace tip and states in its literature that in order "to increase the production and market this invention on a large scale requires about $2,500". To raise this amount the president of the company says he is selling one thousand pairs of high-grade shoes, and that "it is the profit on the sale of the shoes that supplies the capital, which is fast being raised, thanks to the unanimous response to the few letters sent out".

In 1925—three years ago—this same promoter used the same method to raise funds in order to put his patented shoe lace on the market. He has been using the same letter ever since, and oddly, hasn't raised the $2500 yet.

He goes on to tell the recipients of his letters that "this patent will make more millions than Henry Ford did with the automobile and you have a chance to share in this money without costing you a cent". He forgets to explain, however, how net earnings of at least twenty million dollars will be earned to pay the returns he promises to the one thousand purchasers of the stock.

In 1925, the Ohio State authorities barred the sale of the securities of this company. As a result of an investigation and presentation of evidence to the department of Public Utilities in Massachusetts in September, 1926, the securities were barred in that State. In the same month, the Attorney General of New York obtained an injunction against this same company.

The Better Business Bureau has an interesting story regarding the activities of this company and its weird sales idea, which will be given to those who are thoughtful enough to heed the Bureau's slogan. CORN GROWS FASTER AT NIGHT

Other things being equal, corn probably grows most rapidly on warm nights. Many plants, including corn, continue to grow after dark notwithstanding the fact that photosynthesis takes place only while the plants are receiving sunlight. The rate of growth in plants, says the bureau of plant industry, is influenced by many factors other than the formation of the food materials through photosynthesis, and the photosynthetic products themselves may require further change before being utilized in growth. Accordingly some plants not only continue to grow after nightfall, but actually grow more rapidly at night than they do during the day. Apparently, however, this is not true of all plants. There is no particular period in the course of the 24 hours of the day during which all plants grow most rapidly. Ever among those that reach their maximum rate of growth in the night the period of most rapid growth in some seems to begin in the early part of the night, while in others it does not begin until after midnight. Certain plants will continue to elongate rapidly even in prolonged darkness, but in such cases the type of growth differs materially from that which takes place when the plants are exposed to the light.

A good many colors are used to express our feelings when they undergo a physical or mental change. Blue is a sign of cold; red or pink of embarrassment; green of envy; black of anger, white of fear.

Caruthersville high school eliminated Elvins from championship contention last Friday night in the eighth annual girls' invitation cage meet sponsored by Sikeston, and thereby laid claim to first honors in Class A. Elvins overcame a 10-6 and 13-11 lead held by the champions at the end of the first and second quarters, and forged into the lead with a score of 23-18 at the end of the third frame. The elimination of Layne, all-star guard on Elvins squad on fouls, allowed Long and Moore of Caruthersville more trials at the basket, and resulted in a final count of 28 Caruthersville, 25 Elvins.

Poplar Bluff copped third place honors in A division by defeating Diehlstadt in a hard game 38 to 28. Not until the last frame did the Bluff Zippers break down an airtight defense and pull ahead of the Diehlstadt cagers.

The score stood 9-8 at the end of the opening quarter, and 16-16 at the half. The Zippers managed to edge over a one-point lead, 21-20 at the end of the third frame, and then piled up a satisfactory lead in the closing minutes of the game. Davis and Fann were able in the last quarter to break away from Franklin and Hornback, Diehlstadt guards and the score mounted accordingly. The consistent playing of Harris, lank center for the Bluff, assisted materially in stopping the ball before it reached the Diehlstadt all-star forward, Higgenbotham.

The first of the three championship games Saturday night was played in B division at 7 o'clock, when Advance met and defeated Bernie 37 to 24 in a slow, uninteresting game. Prather and Murphy, Advance forwards took turn about sinking baskets. At no time was Advance in danger. N. Prather, who earlier in the day had accumulated 29 points against Delta accounted for 15 points, Murphy for

At the close of the last game, referee Herbert Moore asked the winning teams, Caruthersville, Elvins Poplar Bluff, and Advance to line up in front of the scorer's table for the presentation of trophies. Bronze plaques were awarded the four winners, and following this announcement of the all-star selection made.

Higgenbotham was unanimous choice of the officials as best individual player of the tournament. She has played her last game of basketball for Diehlstadt, and will soon join her parents, who recently moved to Oregon.

The all-star selection:
Davis, Poplar Bluff, forward.
Harris, Poplar Bluff, center.
Sibole, Elvins, center.
Layne, Elvins, guard.

The game began to pick up in interest in the third quarter, when the locals overcame a lead of four points held by the Zippers at the half, and tied the score 20-20. Fann, who in the first half had rolled up a total of 15 points, received most of the attention of the Sikeston guards in the last frame, and Davis, all-star forward for the visitors dropped in the needed points to down the Bulldogs. Andres for Sikeston was high point scorer with a total of 13 to her credit. Sikeston made good on free throws in the tournament game, and thus overcome one factor which spelled defeat in a previous encounter with the Bluffians. The remarkable basket work of Fann, however, proved to be the undoing of Sikeston's hopes for winning a place in the meet.

Rev. A. C. Rudloff's Pontiac coach is badly in need of a chaperone. From the first the automobile has been jinxed, according to the Baptist minister, who recalls that his four-wheeled conveyance has been a thorn in his side—and for no fault of the machine.

The fact that Claude Ragsdale Sunday night plowed into the side of the reconditioned Pontiac as it stood in front of the Baptist church, brought on the following hard luck story by the minister:

When the speedometer registered 1000 miles, an owl flew through the windshield in Jefferson County. The impact with the wise bird did considerable damage to the owl and did not add materially to the good looks of the glass windshield. Both had to be replaced.

The Rudloff's added 2000 miles to the history of the Pontiac and then ripped off a running board in Iron County, when the car struck a rock.

During the recent "cold snap" Rudloff stripped the cogs from the fly wheel in trying to start the motor in cold weather. In other words, the auto was laid up with a bad cold.

At the 12,000-mile point, it was thought best to overhaul the machine thoroughly. The work was done at a cost of $110. Soon thereafter, Rev. and Mrs. Rudloff tried to outrun a Frisco Sunnysland train and lost the race. Rev. Rudloff suffered considerably from shock, and the Pontiac had to be overhauled completely.

The owner and his auto had just about regained their composure when Sunday night entered the scene and added another chapter to the hectic biography. Claude Ragsdale managed somehow to collide with the parked machine and succeeded in denting the body and smashing a perfectly good reconditioned fender. A warrant has been issued for Mr. Ragsdale charging careless and reckless driving.

EXTRA SERVICE TO CHEVROLET OWNERS

Detroit, Mich., March 10.—The Chevrolet Motor Company today announces a new and broader service policy. Any Chevrolet owner, experiencing defective workmanship or material on a Chevrolet car under the terms of Chevrolet's standard warranty, is invited to call upon any authorized Chevrolet dealer in the United States or Canada where the work will be done at no cost to him.

The plan, known as the Owner's Service Policy, is now in effect in the 10,000 authorized Chevrolet service stations in the United States, operating under the general supervision of the 52 Chevrolet branch offices.

The new policy takes the form of a written agreement give the purchaser by the Chevrolet dealer when the new car is delivered. It puts down in plain, understandable language the greater service protection to which every Chevrolet owner is now entitled. Briefly, it offers the following provisions:

POWER OF ADVERTISING DEMONSTRATED WHEN PURSE RETURNS TO OWNER MON.

The drawing power of advertising was again demonstrated Monday morning when the janitor of the Baptist church returned a purse to Mrs. J. R. McKinney, which disappeared from a Regional Missionary Conference held at that church last Thursday. The following story evidently led to the recovery of the purse, although it was not published until about six hours after the purse was returned.

car from the dealer in perfect condition—thoroughly lubricated, properly adjusted and ready to operate efficiently from the first mile of ownership.

Every Chevrolet owner is entitled to free inspection and adjustment of his car at the end of the first 500 miles of usage. This includes checking and adjusting the brakes, tappets, timing, generator, carburetor, clutch pedal, and steering gear; tightening all body bolts, tightening all motor bolts; testing and filling battery and checking the oil level in the transmission and rear axle. The dealer assumes no responsibility for previous adjustments when they have been made in service stations other than his own.

Every Chevrolet owner is entitled to free replacement of any part, which may prove defective, either in workmanship or in material, within the terms of Chevrolet's standard warranty, provided such parts and labor are not required because of accident or mechanical abuse. This includes both parts and labor. This provision will be carried out by any Chevrolet dealer in the United States. Accordingly, the Chevrolet owner may change his residence, or travel to any part of the country with the full assurance that the guarantee on materials and workmanship will give him complete protection.

Hugh Coulson, 25-year-old farmer living four and one-half miles south of Matthews was struck by a hit-and-run driver near the Kewanee lane on Highway 61 Saturday night about 9:30 o'clock, and was brought to the Emergency Hospital here about 11 o'clock suffering from a fractured leg.

Coulson stated that he stopped his Ford truck off of the highway to fix his lights. He had hardly had time to climb into the cab, when a car struck his machine, throwing him to the pavement. Passing motorists notified Johnny Albritton of the accident, and the injured man was brought here for treatment in the ambulance.

P. H. Stevenson, City Clerk, last week received an additional shipment of 2000 new license plates to be issued to motorists in this vicinity. It was learned Monday that Sheriff Tom Scott has extended the time for securing plates until March 15. After that date, deputies will be instructed to make arrests of all persons driving on 1929 plates.

All but 150 of the original shipment of 3000 plates had been exhausted Monday morning according to Stevenson, who stated that the "rush" was leveling down considerably. The largest day so far as sales are concerned, was reported on Saturday, March 1, when about 300 plates were issued.

RIGHT-OF-WAY STATUS UNCHANGED MONDAY

According to E. C. Matthews there are no new developments in the right-of-way situation on the proposed route for Highway 61 north from Sikeston to Benton. A committee of landowners, highway officials and committeemen went over the ground last week, and reached a tentative agreement.

A Morley committee is working to secure right-of-way for the proposed highway near that city.

The Sikeston Woman's Club will meet Tuesday afternoon, this week, at the home of Mrs. Kate Greer.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Anderson and Miss Sadie Sitze of Flat River and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Inman of Cape Girardeau were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Moody, Sunday.

MORLEY YOUTH GETS TWO YEARS

Judge Charles L. Ferguson, in circuit court this morning, sentenced Wavey Rogers, 18, of Morley, Mo., to serve a two year term in the Missouri State penitentiary, following his plea of guilty to a charge of larceny from a dwelling. He later commuted the sentence to two years in the re-form school.

Rogers, last August, broke into the home of Charles Rall, a farmer living near Fisk, and stole a watch and a quantity of jewelry.—Poplar Bluff Republican.

FIRST OFFENSE LESSENS CHARGES AGAINST MAN WHO SIDESWIPED CAR

Charges of driving while intoxicated, in an imprudent and careless manner, and leaving the scene of an accident, were modified "the morning after", when Rev. C. D. Morris, Pentecostal preacher reached an agreement as to settlement of damages with V. B. Vessell, and reduced the charge to misdemeanor.

Rev. Morris was crossing Malone avenue Sunday night about 7 o'clock to reach the Pentecostal church at which he is conducting a meeting, when a Ford driven by V. B. Vessell made a left hand turn at the Frisco crossing and collided with the minister's larger car. Left front fenders on both machines were dented considerably.

Local officers found Mr. Vessell and his son, Ralph, after a short search and produced complaint signed by Rev. Morris. The elder Mr. Vessell took the entire blame for the accident upon himself, thereby releasing his son.

Monday morning, a dozen friends of the Vessell family, all from the McMullin community, appeared before Judge Myers, and succeeded in reaching an agreement which led to mitigating the charges. Clint Kindred, Will Simpson and others agreed that Vessell was a responsible man in charge of the McMullin warehouses, and that this was his first offense. They agreed to stand good for damage done to Rev. Morris' car.

BRIDGE LUNCHEON SATURDAY FOR MRS. Wm. NORTINGTON

One of the attractive social affairs of the early spring season was a bridge luncheon at the Hotel Marshall Saturday, complimenting Mrs. Wm. Northington of Los Angeles, California, by Mrs. Florence Marshall, Mrs. Ben F. Marshall and Miss Kate Austin. Fifteen tables of guests enjoyed this lovely affair. The tables were decorated with St. Patrick clothes, the centerpiece being green carnations. The same color scheme was carried out in the ice cream, being the individual shamrock. Among the out-of-town guests who enjoyed this delightful affair were Mesdames Harvey Johnson of Jefferson City, Arden Ellise of Cape Girardeau, George Taylor of Kansas City, Buddy Stokes of Mayfield, Ky., F. Cape Girardeau were dinner guests Winifred of Memphis, Tenn., Charles Berthe and Ichy Brown of Charleston, Murray Phillips of New Madrid.

Don't let anyone mislead you about the bond issue for the municipal light and power plant. Of course all property in the city is mortgaged in a way, under a bond issue, but no one ever heard of a light plant losing money in recent years. A committee of our own conservative business men have reported the proposed plant, with two-thirds of the users now in the city, would pay a net profit of $18,000 per year, so you will see there is little danger of any citizen ever having a levy made against his property to take care of the light and power bonds. The bugaboo is put out to frighten, when those using it knows there is nothing to it.

From different sections of the United States riots between unemployed and city police occurred Thursday of last week. People who have employment cannot realize what it must be to be without work, and cold and hungry. All of this in a land of plenty and large surpluses of both food and money. Prosperity where art thou!

The Cape Missourian recently stated, editorially, that with all the reductions recently made by the Missouri Utilities Co. in Cape Girardeau that the city was still paying the high rates of old for street lights and getting inferior service. The same is true in Skeston.

Petitions are being circulated asking the County Court to call an election to bond the county for $40,000 to build a new jail at Benton. The old jail is a disgrace, of course, but just as soon as the Eighteenth Amendment gets to working good there will be no need for further jails.

It may be that threats will again be made to increase the rent on some of the houses, provided the light and power bond issue carries, as was made when the sewer bonds were up for passage. The sanitary sewer was a health necessity and there is absolutely no income from that source, but it is paid by taxation. The light and power bonds are for a money making proposition and there is not a chance in the world of anyone's property ever being taxed to pay the bonds. The light and power profits will more likely retire the sewer bonds. Don't let any man or woman pull the wool over your eyes.

When the editor was a boy, just a few years ago, the courting of a girl by a youth was referred to as "sparkling". Now days it could be called "parking". This is a fast age so that the mere dropping of an "s" amounts to little. No matter how cold the weather, there are certain spots around Shelby, and all other towns we suppose, where you can nearly always find a car parked at the side of the road, the young occupants of which are "carrying on" as did their elders in the horse and buggy age. It was not necessary to park then, for hands could be taken off the reins and the horse depended upon to not interrupt proceedings. The advantage of the horse and buggy, however, was that sooner or later the horse would wander back home and the young folks discovering themselves at the starting place would adjourn for the evening, with the agreement that the courtship be continued the next day. With their car parked, it is a different affair, for the young lovers fail to notice the passing of time and seldom get home until morning of the next day.—Shelby Democrat.

Brother Ferguson of the Fredericktown News-Democrat is a soul with humor, one who can jest in the face of threats. Last week he was sued by the prosecuting attorney for $50,000 damages. Instead of worrying he says that for seventeen years he has been conducting the paper and notwithstanding his best efforts he had fallen a little short of making that much in all these years, and that therefore it pains him to see modern youth so ambitious as trying to extract $50,000 from the business within a month or so, as it strikes at his professional pride, but on the other hand, the editor rather favors the move, for it there is that much money concealed around the shop, it was high time that it was dug up and put in circulation. That's delicious humor.—Jackson Post.

THIS WEEK IN MO. HISTORY

By Floyd C. Shoemaker
Captain James Callaway, the man for whom Callaway County was named when it was organized November 25, 1820, met his death at the hands of Indians near the confluence of Prairie fork and Loutre creek, in Montgomery county, 115 years ago the seventh of this month.

Capt. Callaway, son of Flanders and Jemima (Boone) Callaway, and grandson of Daniel Boone, lived in St. Charles district, where in 1805 he married Nancy Howell. Of ordinary education but good natural talents, he interested himself in public affairs, serving as deputy sheriff, tax collector, cavalry cornet, administrator, and in other local and military positions. As early as 1810, it is said he was captain of a cavalry company in the militia. At any rate, the War of 1812 found him on the frontier fighting Indians, and the fatal March 7, 1815, found him stationed at Fort Clemson, on Loutre island whence he set out on his last expedition.

Assisted by Lieutenant Jonathan Riggs, Captain Callaway took a party of some fifteen men to search for a band of Indians who had stolen some horses from neighboring settlers. After swimming Loutre slough, they followed the conspicuous trail left by the Indians, until they came upon their camp about twelve miles above Prairie fork. There were the horses guarded only by the squaws.

The animals were recovered without resistance, but Lieutenant Riggs it is recorded, expressed suspicion of an ambush if they returned to the fort by the same route they came. Capt. Callaway insisted, however, so they started back.

As they approached Prairie fork again, Lieutenant Riggs renewed his warning to his superior officer, but the latter was determined to go on. Some accounts say that Captain Callaway lost his temper and called his lieutenant a coward.

At any rate, they pushed forward and were attacked just as they were crossing Prairie fork. The stream was high at that time, and the Indians, hidden along the bank, fired on the first three horsemen just after they plunged into the water. Capt. Callaway rushed forward and was nearly across the creek, when he was shot at. His horse was killed and he was wounded in the left arm, escaping immediate death when a ball lodged against his watch, which was shattered.

Springing to the bank, Captain Callaway cast his rifle, which he did not have time to reload, into the creek, muzzle first, and started running down the edge of the stream. After a short distance, he plunged into the creek, but as he swam a shot struck him in the back of the head, and he sank from sight.

Lieut. Riggs and the remaining men were hotly engaged, but fighting as they retreated they escaped without loss of life, although several were wounded. The three in advance, however, had been killed. Four or five of the whites, in all, lost their lives in the fight. It is not known how many casualties the Indians suffered.

A burying party, returning the next day, found the bodies of three of the rangers mutilated by the Indians according to the more detailed accounts. Captain Callaway's body when found several days after the fight, was untouched, it having been in the stream and concealed. His father, Flanders Callaway, had arrived from St. Charles county in time to attend the recovery of the corpse.

Capt. Callaway's widow, who had endured all the hardships of a frontier wife and mother but this one was attending school near her home in St. Charles county when she heard of her husband's death. It is recorded that Nancy Callaway could not write, and it is probable that she was trying to remove that handicap which she later did. On arrival of the bad news, she left without a word and stoically walked home, but fainted as she reached her house.

Alexander Napierkowski, of Westfield, Mass., who recently gave his wife a fright by appearing after he was supposed to have hanged himself in a Springfield, Mass. jail, six years ago. His death certificate is legally filled out and signed. Mrs. Napierkowski lost no time in ordering her husband's arrest on a nonsupport charge, but as he is legally dead, the law is in a quandary.

Last year the United States Department of Agriculture's cattle-tick movies were shown four hundred and fifty-seven times and were seen by 62,503 persons in the States of Arkansas, Florida, Mississippi and Texas. In the six years from 1924 to 1929 inclusive, the pictures were shown in rural communities with thousand four hundred and twenty-nine times to an attendance of 370,778 people.

Two films have proved very helpful in tick-eradication work. "Mollie of Pine Grove Vat", a 3-reel film shows a community organizing to get rid of cattle-fever ticks, the dynamiting of the dipping vat by opponents of tick eradication, their capture by the heroine, and the final release of the county from quarantine. In more than one instance, communities hostile to tick-eradication work became favorable to it after seeing "Mollie of Pine Grove Vat".

Fort Myers, Fla., March 6.—Solution of the farm problem, like almost every other economic difficulty, lies in work, which is a remedy for all things, Henry Ford said in an interview at his winter home here.

Machinery, chemistry and education of the farmer toward intensive production are the best agencies of relief, Ford declared.

"As far as that goes," he continued, "mass production will be as much an agency as anything else, but all agencies must be co-ordinated and co-operative with each other."

The manufacturer was asked if mass production might not lead in a short time to over-production.

Search for and development of by-products will bring chemistry into the limelight as an agency for bettering conditions, Ford pointed out.

As he talked he sat in an airplane chair, apparently the favorite piece of furniture in an improvised office. He had just returned from a day's automobile trip with his old friend, Thomas A. Edison, in search of rubber producing plant life and was preparing to leave Florida for his home in Michigan.

Any system of restriction of labor, pending development of a market for increased production of foodstuffs, is a step in the wrong direction, Ford declared.

"I have always been against restricted production. In fact, our company fought one patent for seven years because it tended to restrict production of automobiles," he said.

If this is a machine age, then Henry Ford believes that it is an age that must be directed by man. No man or woman, he said, will fail to find plenty of work if he looks for it.

"What about the automatic machines that are replacing men in plants and factories?" he was asked. "Those going to make the machines?" was his question reply.

"I believe that every man could double his labor output if he tried and on condition that he used intelligence in selecting his method of operation for the increased production," he explained.

"If the farmer believes he cannot crowd more work into a 24-hour day the he must turn to machinery, to chemistry and to a study of production on a more intensive scale," Ford said.

He recently returned from a visit to his plantation near Savannah, Ga. There, he said, his forces are experimenting with a series of farm products and a system of planting that will make each acre of land produce three crops a year. This, he pointed out, involves study of soil conditions, of fertilizers and of crops.

"And all of it," he concluded, in emphatic repetition, "is work, and work is a remedy for all things."

The jury that was empaneled to try a man at Bounding Billows last Friday, after long deliberation, expressed only one opinion, and that was they couldn't agree.—Commercial Appeal.

There is an interesting resemblance in the methods used by insects for flight and the principles used in present-day aircraft, says the United States Department of Agriculture. Entomologists who have been making a special study of insect flight say the rapidly whirling wings of certain insects present an interesting counterpart of the rotating propellers of airplanes.

Baby chicks do a lot of growing in the first four weeks of their lives. H. L. Sharder, extension poultryman in the United States Department of Agriculture, says they double in size in the first two weeks. Not satisfied with such a record, they double in size again in the next two weeks, if they get the right kind of attention. Two essentials for success in rearing baby chicks, Mr. Sharder explains are plenty of heat and feed. A good rule to follow in feeding chicks, he says, is to provide a hopper 4 feet long for each 100 chicks. At the end of three weeks another hopper should be added.

Raymond Usrey of Morehouse left last Thursday to attend Business College at Kansas City. We are proud to heart that he can go for he is an exception of a boy. He is a stepson of Mrs. Mabel Usrey. Mrs. Usrey is a wonderful woman, one who is loved by all who know her. She was married to Mr. Usrey 6 years ago in April and 1 year ago, he passed away. Now Mrs. Usrey and her three lovely children reside at home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Newton Fulkerson of McMullin. Mrs. Usrey carries a sweet smile for everyone. She is a member of the Baptist church of Morehouse and we sadly miss her.

The most dangerous years of married life are said to be the first year and those between the 15th and 20th years.

Some 2000 miles of German railways have been equipped with electrical devices for automatically stopping trains when a danger signal has been passed. Fifty-three locomotives have been fitted with the corresponding device.

At Torquay, England, recently a 40-year-old doctor of good physique broke three ribs in a fit of coughing and cracked a fourth during a subsequent attack.

Java contains a great gas lake which causes a valley nearby to become a veritable death-trap. It is called the "Valley of Death", for those who venture in this ghastly gas valley are instantly killed.

PRONOUNCE IT THIS WAY

The word kibitzer, according to Funk & Wagnall's Practical Standard Dictionary, is pronounced this way: kib, with the i sounded as in police it, with the i sounded as in fit, with the e sounded as in over. The accent is on the first syllable thus: kib-it-zer.

If the word was spelled the way it should be pronounced it would look like this—Keebittzer.

Wise Owner Keeps Property Up-to-Date

The man who has modernized his home knows absolutely that his property values have increased through the remodeling or other work he has done.

Often the increased attractiveness of this remodeled home has brought inquiries as to whether it is on the market.

Modern Houses in Demand

The average person wants a home that is up-to-date. He wants to live in a house that has modern fixtures, hardwood floors, well arranged rooms, tiled baths and clean cut graceful lines. When he finds a place of this sort he is eager to rent or purchase it.

Homes that are modern are always in demand. They sell more easily in the slow market. The house that is difficult to sell or rent is usually the old timer that has no modern conveniences or with fixtures and accessories that are out of date.

The money spent in modernizing a house is always well spent because the returns are definite and sure.

A study of the cost of modernizing the home from a dollar and cents standpoint reveals that the cash outlay is relatively small.

Sometimes only a few hundred dollars are needed to bring the residence up to the par. A new heating plant or the addition of a sun-parlor may be all that is needed.

Sad looking houses, to the average persons hopeless of better things, have been remodeled and made smartly up-to-date for an outlay of but $2,000. The average figure for a complete modernization job equals this sum, according to authorities who have studied this subject.

But what does this cash outlay bring? Spend $2,000 on a $5,000 house. It becomes worth in all probability not $7,000 but more like $8,000 or $9,000.

The investment of $2,000 has jumped the value of the house a clear 15 per cent.

On expenditure in such a case as this—and it is one of many—proves to be a wise investment. In no other way can one increase the value of their holdings so rapidly.

When finishing the interior of your home each room may be decorated in some period design. This decorating scheme should be applied also to the door and window rods which hold and support the drapery.

Some home owners purchase wrought iron drapery hardware, each piece individually hand-hammered and never exactly duplicated. This gives that distinctive touch which may not be obtained with cast hardware.

Ornamental designs in cast aluminum may also be obtained. Draperies hang on the same rod with ornaments can be drawn by hand or draw cord.

Once the handsomest house on the street but in modern eyes now sadly behind the times. The experienced builder clothed it with fresh lines it became the home shown above. Study these and after views—they show how simple modernization really is.

The clean lines and modern appearance of this residence does reveal its true age. Yet it was built back in the World's Fair of '93 when architects had different ideas.

Hardwood Floors Beautify the Interior of the Home

While striving to give character to outside lines of your home do not overlook the interior. It needs modernization also. Hardwood floors may add over your present floor, room room, in just a few days—disturb you scarcely at all.

Seems strange that the old timers did not include hardwood in their plans, so permanent satisfactory are they, but this of use was probably due to a lack of idea of economy.

Hardwood is economical. Hardwood floors are not expensive, in fact, first cost. You can lay them down with less of perishable floor coverings—and they will cost you relatively little more than softer woods.

For upkeep and permanence there is no comparison. Time stands still for hardwood floors. Like fine old furniture, they grow more beautiful with age. Easy to keep clean, smooth and dustproof, they have many advantages. They may be finished in any style and color.

These floors may be kept clean by sweeping with a dry woolly floor brush. At intervals they may be washed with soap and water. Oil mops should not be used as the oil often leaves dirty streaks which are difficult to remove.

REMODELING OLD HOUSES OFTEN EASY TO DO

Every old time residence contains possibilities for improvement that are unsuspected by the average house owner.

The before and after pictures on this page illustrate this thought most aptly. No one would suspect that the clean, trim story and a half home to the left grew from the ginger bread trimmed house depicted below. Yet a study of the two pictures reveals how easy it was for the builder to accomplish these improvements.

Old Porches Torn Away

The old time porch across the front was abruptly torn away, being replaced by a modern stoop with a sharply pitched shingle covered shelter overhead. The side porch leading to the dining room at the side was also removed, the floor space being enclosed. Four windows were placed across its front and two were built into the side walls, allowing a flood of sunlight and fresh air to invade the interior.

The front room in the old day dark and gloomy because of the porch is now well lighted by two windows which take the place of the large fixed window which overlooked the street.

Above on the second floor the single window has been replaced by a large opening filled with two windows.

When remodeling the upper floors of the building the roof over the dining room was raised, allowing another chamber to be included in the upstairs arrangement.

Both the dining room and kitchen have assured more natural daylight by increasing the number of windows.

A Modern Interior

The exterior of the dwelling does not reveal the modernization of the interior. The floor plan was rearranged to use to the utmost the available space. New floors, modern plumbing and an abundance of electrical outlets now make the inside of the house more comfortable and home-like. The treatment of the walls, too, was in keeping with modern tendencies.

These illustrations show the possibilities that lie dormant in many of the houses of the community. Improvements can be made at moderate expense and little inconvenience. The return will be great not only in additional comforts but also in increased valuation of the property.

Good Insulation Cuts The Fuel Costs

Among older houses poor or no insulation is a frequent cause of cold interiors and high fuel bills.

Many of the older residences were constructed only with tarred paper as an insulator—decidedly a makeshift in light of modern building practice.

Basically there are two ways to insulate a house—with a rigid material or with a flexible material. By rigid material is meant tarred paper, wall board or similar product. A flexible material may be a blanket of fluffy wool fibre that looks like sheep wool, or a fine, powder-like substance that is poured between the 2x4's comprising the side supports of the wall.

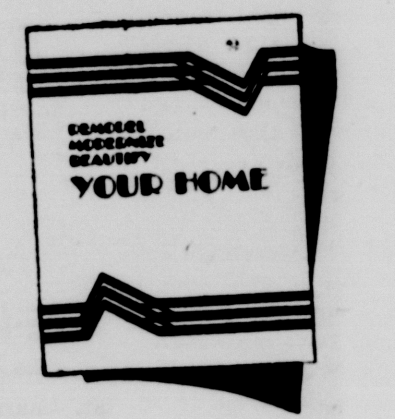

Dead Air An Insulator

Dead air spaces make a splendid insulating material and many products are designed with dead air cells to give this protection. Most of the rigid insulating materials are built with dead air cells.

When the walls have been properly protected by insulating material, it is really sealed against the entrance of cold air and the exit of heat. Then you have 100 per cent insulation and can keep your fuel bills down to a minimum.

That Painting You Want Done—Is It Indoors Or Out?

Does the outside of your house need paint? Then naturally you'll wait on the right weather.

But if it is indoors, don't wait. Get it done right away.

Let us give you two mighty good reasons:

1. Paint and varnish can be applied indoors at any time, regardless of the weather. Often, as in winter, when the house is heated, conditions are just made to order for the best interior work.

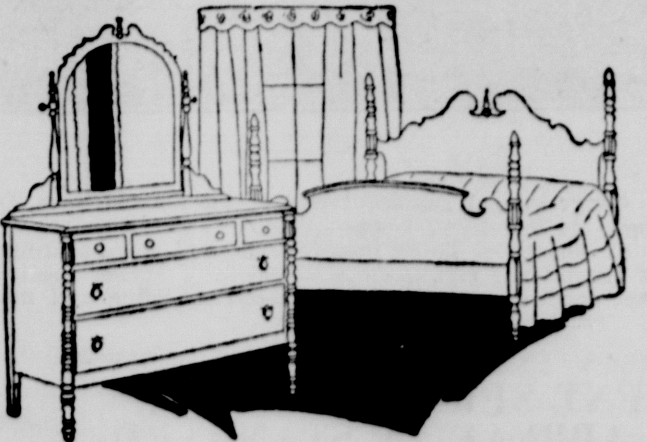

2. The fine weather of spring and fall brings the painters' peak load. Extra men, overtime, hurry—are inevitable. Whereas now your work will be done by regular crews with no other thought than to do a good job. Also your painting, your varnishing, will cost less now than later, when the rush comes on again.

We will be glad to discuss with you in detail the advantages—to both sides—of doing all possible painting and varnishing now.

One of the paving projects for which the contract was let by the State Highway Commission last week, was the gravel stretch leading from highway 61 into New Madrid. The strip is a little more than one-half mile in length, and an 18-foot pavement is planned. A gravel detour which was formerly part of highway 61, but has been discarded, is being graded and repaired with new gravel and will be used while the paving work is in progress. Paving work will begin as soon as the weather permits.

Every community now seems divided into two classes: Church people have no interest in those who ought to be in the fold, and those outside the fold who are either indifferent or unfriendly to the Church. The old concern for "lost souls" has given way to zeal for things material. The poor are practically neglected. Every town of reasonable size needs a Salvation Army man or woman to proclaim and demonstrate a religion of salvation and service to those who can so truthfully say, "And no man

The series of pages on Home Modernization which have been appearing in The Standard has caused considerable comment among the build-
are intimately in contact with the building of homes over a long period of years.

are typical, is the opinion of all.
These views depict actual houses that
have been modernized and changed
from obviously obsolete architecture
to lines that are new and up to date.

modernizing", states J. A. Young
that the series is one of the most in-
attention. If the readers of The Standard will study these views from
task of modernizing is usually a relatively simple one. The cost of modernizing is lower than the home owners suspects.

"Not only this but the value of the
property increases with remodeling.
I have known of many homes that
jumped several thousand dollars in
value when the builder was through
—and you may be sure that the owner did not put that much money into
cause modernizing put new values
there."

The Red Cross is supposed to assist in cases of calamity and not in
supposed to look after her own deserving needy, then comes the County Farm for those old and feeble. The
but little to help.

Very few business people of Sikeston but what would be willing to take hold of a proposition that promises such good financial returns as a municipal light plant, and why a single individual who has the welfare of
against this municipal bond issue, is

TOTAL EXPENSE OF COLLEGE STUDENT 90
YEARS AGO LISTED AT $1.75 PER WEEK

Columbia, March 6.—Ninety years
makes a big difference, judging from
an interesting disclosure made re-
costs of students in the early days of the University of Missouri as compared to those of the present.

complete student expenses for forty-
two weeks of education at approximately $100. By 1850 the total had come up to exactly $113. Seven or eight times that amount would be considered a minimum for a shorter
period in present-day higher educational systems of the country.

bill—all these were included in a single item in students' expense accounts listed in 1845—with $1.75 a week, and get by with it? That is the
year as a "supreme sufficiency" for
any aspiring young collegian to pay,
estimates from all parts of the country show that an average student
pays more than $8 a week for his
board, room, etc., as compared to the
$1.75 of former years.

Included in the catalog estimates
(by 1860 the catalogs omitted these estimates) was the item "contingenc-es". This came to $1 for two terms.
Another small item was fees, amount-

forty-two weeks.

The University of Missouri was
somewhat typical, somewhat unique
in education costs for students in the early days of the institution, as the
figures show. Being the first State university west of the Mississippi River, it had to set a standard for others and at the same time keep up
with those already established in the East. It is said that modern education costs at the University are considerably cheaper, comparatively speaking, than at any other Central
Western State educational institution.

Courses were offered in the University of Missouri during its early history in the following manner: A twenty-one week session opened on
followed by another session of the same length beginning in April. Commencements were held the fourth
Thursday of August.

The University now offers three
regular sessions. These are: the first semester, or fall and winter
term; second semester, during the winter and spring, and the summer
becoming a popular term in the University. The regular school year
now consists of thirty-six weeks for the two standard semesters.

THREE RESOLUTIONS WOULD HELP SOME

Farmers will never get real tax relief in Missouri until they induce the legislature to shift burdens now carried by real estate to things that either pay no State taxes at all or only
a fraction of what they ought to pay.
If, for instance, the legislature would
a year, one-third of the money would
be distributed among the public schools. This would enable every district to reduce its levy for school
purposes.

If farmers would hold meetings in every Missouri township and adopt
the following resolutions there is no
question but that the next legislature
would give favorable action:

Whereas, the logical outcome of a decrease in valuations would be an increase in the tax levy unless other
than present sources of revenue were
reached. And,

Whereas, all owners of real estate
are agreed that farms and town property already are being taxed too
high, therefore be it

record as favoring restoration of corporation and income tax levies to
former figures and as favoring special taxes on luxuries like cigarettes,
soft drinks, cosmetics, theatre and
real estate be relieved of at least
part of the burden it now unjustly
carries. And be it further

Resolved, that our senator and representative be requested to do everything in their power to induce the
next session of the legislature to pass laws of this nature.—Paris Appeal.

A Nationally Accepted Home Modernization Feature To Be Employed Exclusively By Standard

© HARRIS & EWING

Hon. F. Dickinson Letts, Congressional representative of the Second Iowa District, is shown above presenting to the President through his secretary, George Akerson, the Bawden Bros. Home Modernization Services. These services cover all phases of home improvement and will be brought to the readers of The Standard as a news feature of exceptional merit. The President is giving special attention to the Home Modernization project, believing that conditions now make possible remodeling and modernizing improvements involving a million homes.

HOME IMPROVEMENT SERIES WILL APPEAR IN STANDARDCONTRACTS FOR NATIONALLY KNOWN FEATURE SERVICE ON HOME

When President Hoover inaugurated his fight for prosperity last December, one of the items which was included among the definite steps for
a business revival was the home modernization project.

This modernization program was investigated by him when he was Secretary of Commerce under President Coolidge. It has his keenest interest, for from his practical knowledge of the subject, he knows that
and community good.

It is estimated that the home modernization program this year involves
a million homes and $2,000,000,000.

In President's Files

Recently the president was presented through his secretary, George
the Bawden Bros. Home Modernization Services, a newspaper series of
feature pages of exceptional merit
completely covering the home modernization program. The services were presented through Congressman

F. Dickinson Letts of the Second
District of Iowa.

Has Exclusive Rights

With an idea of giving to the home owners of this community the high-
national interest, The Sikeston Standard has concluded negotiation and
received the exclusive franchise for the rights to this home modernization service. The feature started with our issue of March 7 and will run weekly thereafter for 26 weeks.

Modernization is home improvement in its broadest sense—the employment of any household equipment
which adds comfort, convenience and
beauty.

In the series of feature pages which
houses which have been remodeled
and modernized. These illustrations will show the house before and after modernization. They will prove conclusively to every reader that with a small expenditure of thought, time
and money, the old home, no matter how obsolete looking, may be made to
look new and liveable.

Discusses Financing

Special articles in the series will
community help the home owner to achieve his ambitions; how the merchants of the city co-operate with
services and materials to make im-
Standard.

The home improvement program as outlined will make a more beautiful,
more progressive Sikeston. It is a movement which has behind it the civic forces of the community. Those organizations that are conversant
with the details of the campaign endorse it highly.

Advisory Service

The modernization feature is supported by the merchants of the community. These business houses that appear on the page have studied the
home modernizing program as it applies to their particular business and
are offering without obligation to aid
any home owner who has a problem
for solution. This consulting service
is rendered without charge to readers
of The Standard. They are invited to call upon any of these firms that are co-operating with The Standard and
ask questions that involve home improvements.

For Alderman Second Ward
C. E. Felker

In keeping with past expressions
uttered by The Standard editor, we
again state that any man, woman or
child driving a car or truck while under the influence of liquor and injures
anyone, should be given a penitential sentence for a term of years or confined in an asylum. We don't give
a darn who the party is either.

Marion McFarland, just back from
a trip to Ralls County, was in to see
the editor the other afternoon and
said he spent a pleasant time visit-
Fisher, publishers of The Ralls County Record at New London. Both were asking about us and talking of bygone days when we were young.

The Girls' Basketball Tournament
just closed at Skeston showed some
splendid specimens of young womanhood and much of the robust health of the girls is due to athletic exercises practiced in our schools. This is a fine place for a young fellow to pick out a healthy and husky girl for
a wife as he could see pretty much
of what he was getting.

We are not going to get unduly excited about the municipal light and
power plant and will try and not bear
down too hard on those who oppose
the proposition unless they get too
bold in their assertions. We are not expecting a 100 per cent vote for the proposition, but are hoping for a strong two-thirds majority.

It should be good news to the
farmers and merchants of the Central West to hear that within sixty days business will improve and unemployed be given work. This must be so for the President has given out
the news. Governor Hyde must have given the information. Hope it is so but no specifications are given.

spring and putting out shrubs and
trees to beautify the yard, don't overlook the matter of flowers in beds
or in borders that always make a home more attractive. Our home florist can give you valuable assistance along these lines and can furnish the shrubs or bulbs to complete the job.

An appreciated call was made on
the editor Monday morning by Mrs.
Geo. W. Taylor of Kansas City, formerly Miss Daisy Randol. She has been here for a visit with her mother for a few days, but left on the Sunnyland Monday forenoon for her home.

Nurse Tells

How CARDUI
Helped Her

Mrs. W. A. Cox, a well-known professional nurse,
of Burnside, Ky.,
writes:

"I was in very bad health,
and only weighed 110 pounds.
I read in the papers about Cardui, and thought I would give it a try-out. After I had taken one bottle, I could see that I was improving. After
I had taken it a month or two, I began to gain, and I weigh at present 165, and have weighed that for some time. I am now 55 years old,
and can do as much work
as the average middle-aged woman can."
"I would advise any woman,
who is weakly and in a rundown condition, to try Car-dual, but not to expect one bottle to make her well. I

Friends here were notified of the marriage of Erwin Royal Smoot of
this city to Miss Bonnie Murray
Jones of Lakeland, Fla., Sunday
March 9 at Lakeland. A reception
is planned at the Minner community
house for Thursday evening, March 20. The young man was reared in Illinois, but is known to a large number of friends at Minner. He is the son of C. W. Smoot of that community.

If the voters of Skeston have any confidence in the word and findings of
the committee authorized by the City Council to investigate the light plant
situation, they will see there is not
one chance in a thousand that a levy
on city property will be made to pay
the light and power bonds. Their estimate was low and conservative and
with that, the plant would show a net
earning of $18,000 the first year, with
an increase each year until the Supreme Court decides the Salem, Mo.
case of ejecting the light corporation,
then Skeston will proceed along the
same lines and soon have all the business. Use your common sense and
judgment in the matter.

We are extremely sorry to hear
that Jim Martin is a very sick man
at his home in this city. His lungs are effected and an operation was recently performed to drain one of his lungs. Let us hope with the warm sunshine of Spring that he will soon
be able to be about.

The devil must have been in the church house Thursday night when
services. Mrs. J. R. McKinney has
her handbag containing money, gloves
and other small articles, stolen.
Don't this beat you, a black sheep in
the flock.

Friends in Ward 2 have insisted that C. E. Felker represent their Ward in the City Council the coming
term in place of Charlie Hebbeler
whose term expires April 1 and who has moved to Crystal City to take charge of an ice cream plant, hence
the announcement in another place.
Felker is so well known in Skeston
that there is little to be said. Having been mayor of the city for two terms,
he is fitted for the position of Councilman, and his interest in the affairs
of Skeston will make him a valuable

Little "T" Wilson was "making
time" on his new bicycle Saturday
evening about 6:30 o'clock going west
along the Stallcup walk on Tanner Street. At the same time, dozens of cars were whizzing by going to and
coming from the high school basketball tournament. T misjudged the
intentions of one car, a sedan driven
by Roy Whidden. Instead of going straight on to the gym, the sedan
turned north on Ranney, and Little
T. collided. The bike stopped pronto
and T continued in the general direction of one glass window.

Dr. Kendig repaired the damage
to a small shoulder bone which was fractured, and patched up two or three cuts.

Mrs. Moore Greer will be hostess
to the Thursday Bridge Club at her
home, this week.

Mrs. Buddy Stokes returned to her home in Mayfield, Ky., after a pleasant visit with her mother, Mrs. Annie Winchester.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Matthews, Jr.,
left for St. Louis Sunday. Mr. Matthews will go to Jefferson City for a meeting of the Highway Commission, while Mrs. Matthews will remain in
St. Louis for his return.

Plant Your Seed Accurately With This Simple, Reliable McCORMICK-DEERING NO. 8

It is one of the simplest planters built—very practical and durable. No clutch—no chains—no complex mechanism to get out of order. It is a winning combination of accuracy and reliability that has won thousands corn-belt farmers.

The seeding mechanism of the McCormick-Deering No. 8 operates on the "wire drive" principle. Every time a button on the check wire engages the fork, the plate in each hopper deposits a hill to the top of the boot. At the same time the lower valves discharge a waiting hill to the furrow—without scattering. Hills are accurately checked. Combination corn and pea or bean hoppers available, also fertilizer attachment.

CHAFFEE MAN, 75 IS SUICIDE VICTIM

Coroner George Dempster was called in the death of William Isaac Manus, 75-year-old resident of Chaffee who Saturday afternoon committed suicide by drinking one ounce of carbolic acid. Continued ill health and inability to work was given as possible cause of death, although near relatives stated that Mr. Manus had not been despondent.

For the past few years the aged man had been making his home with a son-in-law, Mr. Moore. After drinking the acid, Manus walked back to the house, where doctors used a stomach pump in an effort to save his life. He died at 5 o'clock, one hour after taking the potion.

Funeral services were conducted Monday at the Assembly of God Church. He is survived by a widow and two daughters. He was born October 14, 1854 at Covington, Ky.

The MEDICINE You Should Take After You Have Tried The Others

If you wake up in the morning with spots before your eyes, swimming in your head, coated tongue, bad taste in your mouth, you are bilious, your liver is out of order. If you have gas pains, belching, bloating, indigestion after meals, your stomach is out of order. If you are unable to sleep all through the night, have to get up to answer nature's call, your kidneys are not properly functioning, then these symptoms are nature's warning. Something is wrong, therefore, it is reasonable that nature has provided the remedy and that remedy is Herb Extract, formerly called Herb Juice, made from nature's herbs. The liquid is the extract from Cascara Bark, Senna Leaves, Gentian Root, Jalap, Rhubarb, combined with other valuable medical ingredients properly blended in one of the largest laboratories in America. This Herbal Extract Remedy is said to be the most effective yet discovered for all ailments where free action of the bowels is necessary. If you have any of the symptoms named above, and no energy, no vitality, no appetite, feel sluggish, you're weak, run-down, under weight, bad complexion, easy to take cold, your entire system may need cleansing. Calomel is a mineral and poisonous. Herb Extract is nature's remedy, purely vegetable and harmless. Effective laxative, quick results, thoroughly cleanses intestinal tract. Esteemed Virginia woman writes: "Herb Extract brought me perfect health after other medicines failed." Prominent Houston, Texas, city official writes: "Before I started taking Herb Extract I suffered every day with indigestion, had to take soda. Have taken three bottles Herb Extract, can now eat anything without discomfort." You don't need any pills with this medicine. Demand the genuine as shown above. Now on sale at all druggists.

Galloway's Drug Store

TODAYS BUSINESS PROBLEM

Now, I will go back to my opening remarks and talk more in detail of the things I feel might be improved upon: (1)—Big variety is profitable: The average store will find it profitable and necessary to handle a greater variety of popular selling miscellaneous articles. Step into the big drug stores of our cities today and you will find miniature department stores. Watch their customers and see what they buy. You will find that less than 25 per cent buy drugs or have prescriptions filled. Seventy-five out of a hundred customers buy cigars, cigarettes, smoking tobacco, stationery, candy sundries, toilet goods, handkerchiefs, brushes, kodaks and films, magazines, books, sandwiches, ice cream, soft drinks and thousands of other miscellaneous items and novelties.

In my neighborhood drug store, I have noticed a little "mountain" of Turkish bath towels, most attractively displayed. I have also seen a beautiful assortment of neckties displayed on a rack. Aside from the fact that this druggist finds it profitable to carry such a vast line of miscellaneous items, he is rendering a real service to his community. His store is the community center—the meeting place, where we all like to go; and before we leave, we usually purchase some little token that catches our eyes—an extra sale.

There are thousands of items if properly displayed, that will find a ready sale and keep the cash register ringing, all of which will never be called for if not in sight. Some of these items may sell for only a dime or a nickel—too small in price to bother about—"maybe"; but it is the stuff the "kiddies" buy and remember the "kiddies" of today are the youths and the parents of tomorrow, when they will come with their dollars.

In this connection, it is to be remembered that one of the leaders of Five and Ten Cent Chain Stores has made enough money selling five and ten cent merchandise to build one of the tallest buildings in the world—and he did it by selling big variety.

signs of "Welcome", "Call Again" and "We Try to Please". Train your clerks to make a customer, whether white or black, old or young, attractive or otherwise, to feel at home. Some little unusual, unexpected attention inspires a pleasing atmosphere, and don't forget that everybody likes it—like a little more than expected or common courtesy. Put a smile in every package; that's what an appreciative "Thank You" means when a package is handed over to a customer; but "Thank You" must be said in a way that is pleasing and natural, otherwise the effect is lost. "Won't You Call Again" with a pleasant smile behind it, will bring back Mr. Customer just as sure as the "Flowers Bloom in the Spring". Many will "walk a mile" to get a smile. Natural, pleasing smiles cost nothing; but they are an invaluable asset to a store.

(3)—Courtesy is a big asset in business: Everybody is entitled to common courtesy—every customer expected it and every store tries in its way to show it; but the store that specializes in courtesy—the store that makes this valuable asset outstanding to a point that is noticeable, not only draws trade, but holds it, and grows "fat" on it.

DIES FROM CAR INJURIES

Bloomfield, March 6.—J. F. Aslin 89, justice of the peace for 45 years, died late yesterday from the effects of injuries received when he was knocked down by a car.

He lived near here most of his life. During the time he was justice he performed more than 1500 marriage ceremonies. He was with the Seventh Tennessee of the Confederate army cavalry during the Civil War and took part in several important battles.

When the Greeks, in classical days set up the statues of their gods in the open, they used to protect each with a large metal plate at the top of each head against the rain staining the marble faces. These, it is said, were mistaken by medieval painters for emblems of divinity. Accordingly, we see around the pictured heads of the Christian saints the curious little ring which is known as the halo.

The company purports to be in the business of manufacturing a patented shoe lace tip and states in its literature that in order "to increase the production and market this invention on a large scale requires about $2,500". To raise this amount the president of the company says he is selling one thousand pairs of high-grade shoes, and that "it is the profit on the sale of the shoes that supplies the capital, which is fast being raised, thanks to the unanimous response to the few letters sent out."

In 1925—three years ago—this same promoter used the same method to raise funds in order to put his patented shoe lace on the market. He has been using the same letter ever since, and oddly, hasn't raised the $2500 yet.

He goes on to tell the recipients of his letters that "this patent will make more millions than Henry Ford did with the automobile and you have a chance to share in this money without costing you a cent". He forgets to explain, however, how net earnings of at least twenty million dollars will be earned to pay the returns he promises to the one thousand purchasers of the stock.

In 1925, the Ohio State authorities barred the sale of the securities of this company. As a result of an investigation and presentation of evidence to the department of Public Utilities in Massachusetts in September, 1926, the securities were barred in that State. In the same month, the Attorney General of New York obtained an injunction against this same company.

The Better Business Bureau has an interesting story regarding the activities of this company and its weird sales idea, which will be given to those who are thoughtful enough to heed the Bureau's slogan. "Before you invest—investigate".—Better Business Bureau of St. Louis, 413-417 Commercial Bldg., St. Louis, Mo.

CORN GROWS FASTER AT NIGHT

Other things being equal, corn probably grows most rapidly on warm nights. Many plants, including corn, continue to grow after dark notwithstanding the fact that photosynthesis takes place only while the plants are receiving sunlight. The rate of growth in plants, says the bureau of plant industry, is influenced by many factors other than the formation of the food materials through photosynthesis, and the photosynthetic products themselves may require further change before being utilized in growth. Accordingly some plants not only continue to grow after nightfall, but actually grow more rapidly at night than they do during the day. Apparently, however, this is not true of all plants. There is no particular period in the course of the 24 hours of the day during which all plants grow most rapidly. Even among those that reach their maximum rate of growth in the night the period of most rapid growth in some seems to begin in the early part of the night, while in others it does not begin until after midnight. Certain plants will continue to elongate rapidly even in prolonged darkness, but in such cases the type of growth differs materially from that which takes place when the plants are exposed to the light.

A good many colors are used to express our feelings when they undergo a physical or mental change. Blue is a sign of cold; red or pink of embarrassment; green of envy; black of anger, white of fear.

And that is not all you will see.

The latest household cabinets in Porcelain-on-steel will be on display. The famous "Frigidaire Cold Con-
